5. Chair's report: Monday April 9 there will be a panel discussion on SB 827 at the Neighborhood Council meeting.

Jeff wanted to figure out a way to solve the complex housing shortage by further studying all the issues that affect this housing problem and make long and short term goals incorporating our past studies. This master plan will involve a lot of time and needs a funding source to make it possible to hire a couple of people document and compile the Vision studies.

Jeff again presented the homeless housing study introduced last month. With much discussion everyone felt locations were good. Sue informed us that the City will be proposing a Permanent Supportive Housing Ordinance that will make these developments, By Right projects. This would prevent communities from constantly stopping them. Bob felt that reaching out to community would be very important. Discussion continued on when and how to do this. Committee felt that Councilmember Ryu's support would be critical in getting this done.

Jeff explained that he would have a representative from one of the main homeless organizations speak to us next month. When the Vision committee approves these locations, the homeless location idea would go to the Homeless Committee of SONC and the permanent housing location would go to PLUM for approval prior to going to the SONC Board. Paralleling these efforts, the Vision study would go to SOHA's Committee on Homelessness for approval.
